SEILHEIMER ELECTED BY MOOSE LODGE

Irvin M. Seilheimer, Lincoln Square, was elected junior governor of the local Moose lodge at a special election Thursday night.

Seilheimer, former prelate of the lodge and its inner guard for the last five months, fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Michael Tate as junior governor. Governor Jacob S. Small will appoint a new inner guard to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Seilheimer to junior governor.

Plans were outlined for a number of activities. The annual Youth Honor Day program of the Moose will be held October 30. Pledge cards to be signed by youngsters, stating: "I pledge on my honor as a citizen of my community not to defame, mutilate or destroy property or perform any act harmful to others during the Halloween season" are to be distributed to cooperating public and parochial schools in the county.

The signed pledge cards will also admit the youngsters to the annual Halloween parties to be held by the Moose at its lodge on York St. on October 30. The party for children of the first through sixth grades will be held from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. The Halloween party for teen-age

WARNS ABOUT FIRE ALARM SYSTEM SALES

John W. Murren, Hanover R. 4, Adams County fire marshal, Thursday evening issued a general warning to countians concerning home installations of electric fire detection and alarm systems—particularly any ones in which his name is used by salesmen as recommending the installation of that particular type of installation.

Speaking at a meeting of the Adams County Fire Chiefs' Association at York Springs, Fire Marshal Murren told the group: "There are a number of very good fire detection and alarm systems. They operate by placing at various spots in the home small thermostats connected to an alarm system. When the heat in the room reaches the point that would indicate a fire, the thermostats set off the alarm. Several such systems are sold in hardware stores for very reasonable prices. A system in which thermostats are placed in the cellar and attic only could be purchased and installed for about $30. For about $100 an automatic system could be installed with thermostats in every room of the average house. And certainly as fire marshal I favor the proper installation of a good fire detection and alarm system in homes.

Poorly Installed

"This warning is directed, however, against certain high-priced installations that have been sold by high pressure methods, particularly in the eastern part of the county.

"My name is being used as recommending a particular fire safety and alarm system. I am familiar with the system and although I have notified the company that I do not recommend it, I am told my name is still being used."

The county fire marshal held that "while the particular type of equipment that is installed is effective, the method of installation may be giving the people in whose homes they are installed a fire hazard

PROTECT ADAMS

(Continued from Page 1) time shall subject parties to the penalties provided by the acts of the state legislature concerning such matters, according to the notice.

Normal Procedure
Dr. C. M. Stevens, Harrisburg, head of the brucellosis division of the state Department of Agriculture, said the type of quarantine put on the county is "the normal procedure to protect areas where the cattle are clean or in the process of being cleaned from brucellosis."

He added that of 497 milking herds in the county, containing 4,684 cattle, tested in the recently completed second "ring" test for brucellosis 469 herds were found to be "negative" — that is, the ring test showed them completely free of disease. Twenty-eight herds, or 5.66 per cent of the herds, were found to be "suspicious" — that is there was a reaction shown by the ring test. Because several diseases and minor disorders can cause a reaction in the ring test it does not show that an animal or a herd has brucellosis, Dr. Stevens said. The ring test is used because it quickly eliminates herds that are perfect. When a reaction is shown the more time consuming blood test is given. The blood test will definitely establish brucellosis if it exists. In prior tests the amount of brucellosis found was "very small" in Adams County, he reported. The blood tests in those herds which reacted in the second complete test have not as yet been made, but are expected to follow the pattern set by the prior test, of showing possibly a few herds in which one or more animals may have the disease.

"Fits Teeth In"
In addition to the 497 herds tested there are also 106 dry herds that will be tested as they come into milk and 532 herds in the county which are on a constant individual testing plan. There are also 195 beef herds that are blood tested under the program. Ten herd owners refused to permit ring testing and the herds will be blood tested.

Dr. Stevens said the imposition of the quarantine "puts teeth into" the protection of clean herds. Without the quarantine anyone could buy cattle anywhere and bring them into the county, "and you could have the condition of a farmer with a clean herd looking over the fence at an infected herd on his neighbor's farm."

The girls opened the session with a flag ceremony and sang the Browdie song. Brownies related their vacation experiences which took them to Canada through

FRAIL MOTHER OF SLAIN BABY IS IN HOSPITAL

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—The frail mother of kidnapped and murdered Cynthia Ruotolo is a voluntary patient at a state mental institution here.

Mrs. Eleanor Ruotolo, 33, accompanied by a sister, arrived at the hospital at 4 p.m. yesterday and asked to be admitted. Dr. Edgar C. Yerbury, superintendent of the Connecticut State Hospital, said.

Abraham S. Ullman, New Haven County state's attorney who is heading the investigation into the death of six-week-old Cynthia, said last night he had heard that Mrs. Ruotolo had entered the hospital, but he had no information other than that.

The procedure with such patients, Dr. Yerbury said, is to give them an examination to determine whether they are mentally ill.

Disappeared From Carriage

Cynthia disappeared from her carriage left by Mrs. Ruotolo in a Sears Roebuck department store in Hamden on Sept. 1.

The infant's body was found five days later in a lake, about a mile from the store. It was stuffed in an air tight plastic bag and weighted with a stone.

Mrs. Ruotolo collapsed in her husband's arms during graveside services for the baby. Cynthia was the third infant Mrs. Ruotolo and her husband, Stephen, lost to death. One child died of pneumonia and a second died in an accident.

An autopsy report showed that the baby had died of suffocation—either from drowning or some other cause.

rather than a fire protection. In some of Adams County homes they are installed with such materials and in such manner that they fail to meet the minimum standard safety requirements of the national code for electrical installations.

Inducements Offered
Murren said the installation brought to his attention costs "between $300 and $600 on an average, the prices varied from place to place." A sales talk was given stating that the person would receive $5 each for eight names of prospective other customers given to the company, and all received a check for $40 to cover that amount.

The purchasers were also told they would receive $20 for each who actually bought the fire detection system. Murren said one of seven persons received one check for $20, when his brother-in-law next door bought a set. The contracts signed by the purchasers, some of them assuming it was an application, rather than a contract, Murren said, contains a judgment note which in the cases reported to the fire marshal have been turned over to a Philadelphia bank. Murren said in such cases the bank has the right to collect, but the bank is not responsible to remedy any defects.

Murren concluded: "Before anyone purchases or installs a system I recommend that they first contact their fire chief, or fire marshal, or their attorney, if there is a contract to be entered into."

Asks Carnival Dates
Woodrow Miller was introduced as a new member of the fire chiefs, representing the new Midway fire company. Civil Defense books were distributed to the chiefs, for further distribution to their companies, by Donald Staub and Francis Linn, assistant fire chiefs of Gettysburg. The fire chiefs were asked by President Bernard V. Miller to send the secretary a list of their carnival dates for next year.

Irvin Houck, Hanover, introduced Eugene Basford, Hanover, representative of a fire extinguisher company, who displayed various types of fire extinguishers and outlined methods by which they can be checked as to operation and maintained.

Aspers was chosen as the site for the next meeting, November 1. It was voted to hold the December meeting on the second instead of the first Thursday because of the hunting season.

Jerry Galvin, approaching his 100th birthday in Estherville, Iowa, in August, 1956, boasted that "I'm growing a whole new head of hair."

rather than a fire protection. In some of Adams County homes they are installed with such materials and in such manner that they fail to meet the minimum standard safety requirements of the national code for electrical installations.

Inducements Offered
Murren said the installation brought to his attention costs "between $300 and $600 on an average, the prices varied from place to place." A sales talk was given stating that the person would receive $5 each for eight names of prospective other customers given to the company, and all received a check for $40 to cover that amount.

The purchasers were also told they would receive $20 for each who actually bought the fire detection system. Murren said one of seven persons received one check for $20, when his brother-in-law next door bought a set. The contracts signed by the purchasers, some of them assuming it was an application, rather than a contract, Murren said, contains a judgment note which in the cases reported to the fire marshal have been turned over to a Philadelphia bank. Murren said in such cases the bank has the right to collect, but the bank is not responsible to remedy any defects.

Murren concluded: "Before anyone purchases or installs a system I recommend that they first contact their fire chief, or fire marshal, or their attorney, if there is a contract to be entered into."

Asks Carnival Dates
Woodrow Miller was introduced as a new member of the fire chiefs, representing the new Midway fire company. Civil Defense books were distributed to the chiefs, for further distribution to their companies, by Donald Staub and Francis Linn, assistant fire chiefs of Gettysburg. The fire chiefs were asked by President Bernard V. Miller to send the secretary a list of their carnival dates for next year.

Irvin Houck, Hanover, introduced Eugene Basford, Hanover, representative of a fire extinguisher company, who displayed various types of fire extinguishers and outlined methods by which they can be checked as to operation and maintained.

Aspers was chosen as the site for the next meeting, November 1. It was voted to hold the December meeting on the second instead of the first Thursday because of the hunting season.

Jerry Galvin, approaching his 100th birthday in Estherville, Iowa, in August, 1956, boasted that "I'm growing a whole new head of hair."

until 11:45 a.m., while the Arts and Crafts group, for ages 11 and under, meets at the same time.

A longer session for arts and crafts is offered from 1:30 to 4:15 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. Two groups, one for children aged 13 and older, and one for children aged 9 and 12, may receive instruction. Tournaments are also held in this two hour and forty-five-minute session.

A summer program for adults held daily from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. supplements the children's program and affords healthful recreation and a good outlet for physical energies for adult members of the community. Included on the diversified adult sports schedule are: Little League games, big league games, community softball league games, tennis tournaments for boys, juniors, girls and adults. Tennis, archery, horseshoes, quilts, badminton and volleyball on individual and team levels are offered during this part of the evening. The program is heightened by more social aspects as the semi-monthly teen-age dances held on Friday nights and the semi-monthly square dances.

Fall Activities

Fall activities will center around touch football which is conducted at the Recreation field each Monday after 4 p.m. for fifth and sixth grades. Two games will be played.

Basketball, a great favorite during the winter months, will keep the "Rec" Association busy this winter with a Little Guys Basketball League for children aged nine years to 12 and the Adult Community League. Both groups, which will meet at the Gettysburg High School, will announce their schedule after Christmas.

Another new feature of this year's fall and winter program will be round and square dances slated for Friday and Saturday nights at the high school and teenage dances mostly every Saturday night.

Adult education courses will also be conducted. Course topics are decided by the number of persons who sign up for a designated course. Other years courses were conducted by experts in the field in art, shorthand, typing and wood working.

Playground Staff

Playground personnel is under the direction of Chester J. Hilger. Supervisors are: Howard Shoemaker, Don Bickle, Mrs. Louise Tarmen and Mrs. Carroll Arter, arts and crafts director. Miss Adams is a voluntary leader for the association.

The sources on income for the "Rec Association" are $6,000 from the Community Chest; $1,000 from the Borough Council and $3,500 state appropriations. The state reimburses the association for 51 per cent of its expense. Total resources are $10,500.

The association operates on an annual budget of about $6,000. Total expenses are $11,285, which includes: salaries of director, sum-

Reckless Driving Will Be Charged

A charge of reckless driving is to be filed by state police against Arthur Lee Spencer, 52, Baltimore, as the result of an accident at 7 p.m. Wednesday on the Caledonia-Pine Grove Furnace road, a short distance north of Caledonia. The charge is to be filed before Justice of the Peace Charles A. Hemler, of Gettysburg R. 3.

Traveling north on the mountain road, Spencer told police he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car and the vehicle veered off the highway and struck a tree. Damage to the car was estimated at $100.

Because the budget exceeds the total income the association says they will either cut the program, raise more money or drain the reserve.

Today's Talk

IT'S WHAT LOVE DECIDES
Happy that man or woman should be if he or she can make a decision to do the one thing loved and believed in regardless of the monetary compensation or fame resulting therefrom. Robert Louis Stevenson put it in these words "If a man love the labor of any trade, apart from any question of success or fame, the gods have called him."

All too many have followed the god of money only to learn late in life that they followed the road to a dead end. To do the thing in life you most want to do is merely following out the way and path that a wise destiny has selected for you — and, regardless of what others may say, the decision is one of courage and character. I have a friend who is a natural artist, but his father sent him to a well-known college in the East and insisted that he should become a lawyer, a thing he hated. So slyly he kept up his art work, loving it more and more, and it was not until his father died that he could work happily at what he apparently was born to do.

How can anyone excel at anything into which he cannot put his heart and enthusiasm? Love the thing you do, and you will do much, and do that much exceedingly well! The story of Liberace is an inspiring one, but don't think he came upon that marvelous technique in the playing of a piano overnight. It took him years of constant practice, but his greatest advantage is that he loves his work with a passion that amounts to genius, and is genius! It is interesting to watch a painter at work, or a gardener who puts himself into the flowers that he attends. Dr. George Washington Carver loved flowers so much that it is said he talked with them. The love for your work makes all the difference in the world as to your happiness and efficiency. Love decides, but it also leads and guides aright.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Praise" Protected, 1956, by the George Matthew Adams Service

YOUNG READER
I watch him, book in hand,
Safe settled in an easy chair,
And know he's in some distant land,
Sharing a great adventure there.

And who am I to ask his ear
Or bid him turn to look at me?
I'm just his grandpa, always near,
To whom he can be indifferent be.

He's never seen me on a horse,
I've never worn a large, gray hat;
I've never joined the sheriff's force —
For grandpas don't do things like that.

I chase no bandits to their lair,
At them I never point a gun;
I'd say that in my easy chair
No thrilling deed I've ever done.

I watch him pass from page to page,
Sharing the fight 'tween good and bad,
And know that I have passed the age
When I could thrill a growing lad.

CONTINENTAL MARK II IS NOW ON DISPLAY

The Continental Mark II which, with its introduction in October 1955, signaled the re-entry of the American automotive industry into a field previously dominated by foreign cars, once again has broken with tradition with the announcement that the car will follow the European pattern of "design endurance" and will preserve its present styling features during the 1957 model year. It is now on display in Lincoln showrooms here.

This is in keeping with the merchandising concept inherent in the original designation of the Continental as a Mark II, rather than that of a particular model year, according to Ben D. Mills, vice president of Ford Motor Company and general manager of the Lincoln Division. "The modern formal styling of the present Continental was designed to be different enough in concept and advanced enough in execution to last for several years without any loss of distinctiveness or appeal," Mr. Mills said. "While some design modifications may be incorporated into the car over a period of years," he said, "they will maintain the tradition of previous designs and will not change the basic and identifying characteristics of the car."

"A number of extensive engineering refinements have been made since the first Continental Mark II was produced in June 1955, and are designed to enable the car to retain its position in the forefront of the industry," Mr. Mills said.

Significant among these changes is an engine with a higher compression ratio, and the use of a new and stronger steel torque converter. As in the past, the horsepower of the engine used in the Continental will not be announced.

The Continental Mark II for the 1957 model year retains the distinctive features which excited the automotive world when the car was first introduced in October 1955. SERIES SHORTS

By ED CORRIGAN
BROOKLYN (AP) — The presence of Jerry Coleman at second base for the New York Yankees in today's second World Series game is no reflection on Billy Martin who will be switched to third.

"In all the years I played alongside of him," said ex-Yankee Phil Rizzuto, "I can't remember a runner ever taking him out on a play when the throw from third base or short-stop was a good one."

Rizzuto, by the way, is acting as a reporter for the series. . . "How is a sports writer supposed to operate?" He has been asking the slaves of the press box. . . Brooklyn pitcher Don Newcombe, who got an extra day of rest from yesterday's rain, usually likes to go every four days. . . "But my shoulder has been a little stiff lately," he said. . . During the season, the records show he had an extra day's rest 11 times and won eight of them.

That brings up the subject of how the day off will affect Yankee starter Don Larsen. . . What extra day off? . . . The way Casey Stengel manipulates his pitchers, there is no rotation. . . Sal Maglie liked the day off, though. . . "I haven't been resting well for the last three or four days," said the Barber, who is really a charming and well-spoken fellow. . . "The phone has been ringing and ringing. . . it gave me a chance to relax."

Brooks' President Walter O'Malley should know plenty of presidential secrets . . . after entertaining President Eisenhower in the opener, he was host to Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson today. . . If Stevenson follows Ike's system, he will root for the Dodgers.

Says Joe DiMaggio: "Power is going to win this series, not pitching." . . . The one-day postponement posed a big problem for hotels which already were filled. . . It also was a boon to speculators who had been having a hard time disposing of tickets to Ebbets Field. . . Many out-of-towners who came in for the weekend set at Yankee Stadium were in the market for tickets for the second game here.

Brook Manager Walter Alston still was noncommittal about his pitcher tomorrow. . . "I'm not trying to hold anything back," he said. . . "It's just that I really don't know."

Newcombe and Joe Collins are old "friends" . . . In the opening game of last year's series, Collins hit two straight home runs off Don . . . at that time Collins was plagued by assorted ailments. . . SAYS BERRA IS MOST FEARED OF YANKEES

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Yankee most feared by the Dodgers is not Mickey Mantle — it's Yogi Berra, says Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson.

"That's the man who hurts us most," said the veteran infielder of the hustling New York catcher. "We'd a lot rather have Mantle up there in a tight spot than Berra."

Although Mantle is the American League's triple offense champion—batting leader at .353, home run king with 52 and tops in runs-batted-in with 130 — the Dodgers, says Jackie, are more afraid of Yogi's ability to come through in a clutch.

"We figure that if we can stop Berra, we can stop the Yankees. If Berra is hot, we figure we're in bad trouble. This is a fighter—he'll try to whip you with a tooth-pick."

Robinson said the Dodgers get a particular kick out of beating the Yankees because of the "aura of invincibility that has been built up around them."

"We don't look on them as a bunch of prima donnas," added the Brooklyn third baseman. "We respect them as tough ball players. We know they're good and we just try to prove we're better."

LOS ANGELES IS MAKING OFFER TO MAJOR LOOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shift of Washington's American League baseball club to California in time for next year's season was reported to be under consideration today.

The Washington Post and Times Herald quoted Club President Calvin Griffith as saying in New York City that he has such a plan "under consideration" and that an offer made by Los Angeles city officials "looks very attractive to us in many ways."

Griffith, who is in New York for the World Series, was further quoted as saying: "We'll have to consider all of the various aspects before making any final decision."

There is an Oct. 31 deadline on any franchise shifts. "We would need the favorable votes of six of the eight teams in the league," the paper quoted Griffith. "I think they can be counted on, but we would have to take quick action to smooth out all details before Oct. 31."

LIGHT HEAVIES FIGHT TONIGHT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clarence Hinman, a home-town boy and a knockout specialist, bids for national light-heavyweight recognition tonight in a 10-round meeting with Tony Anthony of New York at Capital Arena.

Hinman, 23, and a professional for 6 years, is credited with 16 knockouts while winning 21 of his 29 starts. He floored his last three opponents, Al Andrews, Willie Troy and Julio Carreras, the Cuban light-heavyweight champion. Anthony, ranked by Ring Magazine as the No. 7 light-heavyweight contender, also is expert at the hard punch. He has won 27 of 31 pro starts, 21 by knockouts.

The fight will be televised over the usual Friday night hookup, NBC 9 p.m., EST.

Winless Bullets, Albright Seek Initial Victory In Clash Here Saturday At 2

Gettysburg College's football team opens a three-game home stand here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when it entertains Albright in the first home game of the campaign.

The clash will be one of the highlights of the Father's Day Weekend being observed at the college.

Both teams will be looking for their initial 1956 victory. The Bullets bowed to Lehigh 26-7 and Bucknell 17-7 while Albright dropped a 13-0 verdict to Bucknell and an 18-0 decision to Muhlenberg.

One of the biggest problems for Saturday's rivals during the current campaign has been to generate a sustained offense. Both have done fairly well on the defense.

Bullet Changes
Coach Johnny Yovicsin has announced two changes in his starting lineup. Dick Rowan, 175-pound sophomore guard from Harrisburg, will replace Don Harman, 190-pound junior, while John Yohn, 200, sophomore, who was converted from a tackle, will start at center in place of Arlo Olsen, 195, sophomore.

The remainder of the starting group will be the same. Bill Ward and Larry Davies will open at ends; Al Kempton and Marty Hoffman will be at tackles; Jerry Harriel and Rowan, guards, and Yohn, center, Frank Capitani, Earl Yost, Dave Lichtenfeld and Charley Heverly will start in the backfield.

The squad came out of the Bucknell game with only a few minor bruises. Bob Lebo, back, and Joe Robinski, guard, will again be out of action due to early season injuries. Albright comes here with a squad which includes no less than 15 lettermen from last year.

Veteran Lions
Vets remaining in the backfield include Frank Sudock, 167, star quarterback and Floyd Rightmire, 185, hard running fullback who formerly starred at Hanover High School. Other veteran ball toters include John Kopp, 175; John Cunningham, 170, and Joe Sheppard, 185.

On the forward wall Coach John Potokian has the following lettermen: Ends, George Flynn, 186; Frank Hoffman, 203, and Don McCarthy, 185; tackles, Joe Kremer, 200, and John Settizer, 205; guards, Charles Hoover, 190, and Norm Ruppert, 190, and center, John Mishko, 200.

From all angles the game shapes up as an even affair with both clubs going all out to gain their initial win.

This will mark the 17th gridiron clash between the schools. The Bullets hold a wide edge with 10 wins against two defeats and four ties. Last year the Bullets romped to a 46-6 win at Reading.

CRITIC OF IVY LEAGUE RULES IS ANSWERED

NEW YORK (AP) — Princeton football coach Charles Caldwell has leveled a counter blast at a critic of Ivy League rules.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins professional football club, was quoted recently as saying that the Ivy League schools which created football now are destroying it.

Caldwell made this one sentence reply yesterday when told about Marshall's statement: "Good For Players"

"Ivy League football is good for the players, if not for Marshall." At a midweek luncheon, Caldwell also praised his sophomore fullback, Fred Tiley, a 195-pound

Top baseball attraction in Adams County Sunday afternoon will be the clash between Casketown and Fairfield at Fairfield for the playoff championship of the Pen-Mar League.

The game will be the final in the best-of-three series. Casketown took the opener two weeks ago 2-1 while Fairfield won 5-0 last Sunday.

Methodism In Littlestown Dates Back To 1st Class In 1827; 1st Church Erected In 1845

By ALICE S. YOHN

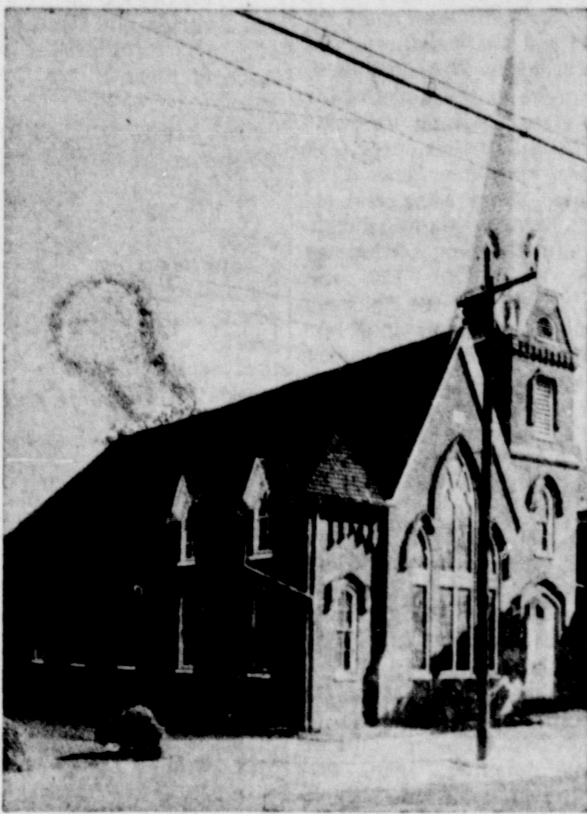

Methodism in Littlestown dates back to 1827 when the first Methodist class was held there. The members were John McIlvain, Rachel Sweeney, Jonathan Forrest, Lydia Forrest, Catherine Forrest, and Henry Beltman. Littlestown was then part of the Gettysburg circuit with the Rev. John Bair, presiding elder; the Rev. Samuel Clark, preacher in charge, and the Rev. George Hildt, junior preacher. Services were held in the United Brethren church, which was the only Protestant church in town at that time.

Mrs. Rachel Sweeney, known as "Mother Sweeney" was the first Methodist in Littlestown. Born August 19, 1774, she died March 28, 1861 and is buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg. About 1821 her house had become the home of itinerant preachers and the first local Sunday school of the denomination was organized there. She had embraced the faith in Carlisle, Pa. in 1819 and shortly after, moved to Littlestown. Until "Mother Sweeney" was a member of the Gettysburg class and used to walk to Gettysburg to attend the meetings.

The society continued to worship in the UB church until the spring of 1845 with but little growth. About this time there was a rumor current that if the Methodists continued to worship in the UB church for 21 years, they might claim possession. Old records show that the leader was now John McIlvain. When the morning came on which the little group found the door locked against them, Brother McIlvain announced that preaching would be held, in the future, in a little log school house.

Dedication On Christmas

In 1845 a book was put out to receive subscriptions for building a church. Members succeeded in collecting some money and on

The present Centenary Methodist Church, Littlestown, was erected in 1876 at a cost of $5,000. It was remodeled in 1893 and the interior was completely renovated in 1912. The church has 163 members but Sunday School attendance is increasing. Other groups in the church are also active.

Dec. 25, the first church was dedicated. It was a brick building and cost $700. Brother McIlvain's father bought the land on which the church was built for $135 and deeded it to his son who then deeded it to the church. Among the expenses listed are one dozen spit boxes, $2.25, and three lead lamps at $4.00 apiece. Levi Smucker was the carpenter, E. Swope, the mason, E. Stone, the plasterer, and Andrew McSherry, painter.

The present church was erected in 1876 at a cost of $5,000, and remodeled in 1893 giving it its present external appearance. It is located at 52 East King St. which in 1740 had been called Monocacy Road and was the oldest road in Adams County following a great Indian trail between the Susque-

John McIlvain was one of the earliest leaders of the Littlestown Methodists. He was largely responsible for the erection of the first church in 1845. His father purchased the land on which the church was built, deeded it to his son, who in turn deeded it to the church.

hanna and Potomac rivers. When Littlestown was laid out in 1765, this portion of the road became King St.

Anniversary Celebrated
On Christmas Day in 1896, following a six o'clock morning prayer service, members and friends assembled to celebrate the 51st anniversary of the dedication of the church. Only four persons were living who had been members in 1845. They were John McIlvain, Mariah L. Weikert, Ann Kitzmiller, and Hamilton W. Forrest.

Prior to 1877 the Gettysburg church supplied preachers but in 1876 Gettysburg was made a station and the remainder of the charge composed of Littlestown, Rock Creek, Fairfield, Chambersburg (now Orrianna), Pleasant Grove, and Fountaindale was known as the Littlestown circuit with the Rev. Owen Hicks as pastor.

In 1880 the newly constructed church, costing $1200, in Union Mills, Maryland was added to the charge. In 1899 the charge was again divided, the upper portion being attached to the Rousherville circuit and Centenary and Union Mills constituting the Littlestown charge with the Rev. Joseph Gray, pastor. Union Mills church was razed in 1954 after being inactive and unused for many years.

Other Units Built

The present parsonage was built beside the church in 1908 at an approximate cost of $2500. The interior of the church was completely renovated in 1912 at a cost of $1500 giving the congregation the beautiful church that now stands.

In 1925 the Methodist social hall, standing to the rear of the church, was built costing about $7800. It was used for high school plays and basketball games until the new high school was built in 1954. It was later used as a sewing factory, bowling alley, and is now a sewing factory again.

Oil heat was installed in the church in 1946 while the Rev. Robert Sheehan was pastor. In 1948, while the Rev. Grantas Hooper was pastor, the interior was redecorated and an Elysian organ installed.

Pastors Are Active

The Rev. Harvey B. Simons served the Littlestown church for five years until 1954. During those years parsonage improvements were made and a rest room installed in the church. The basement of the parsonage was converted to a social room in 1954 while the Rev. Herman E. Stenger was pastor.

The Rev. Joseph E. Wood, present pastor of Centenary Methodist church, came to Littlestown from the Pittsburgh area where he had served for the past twelve years. He graduated from Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa. and attended Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary. While serving Centenary church Rev. Wood is attending Westminster Theological Seminary and has one more year of work to obtain the degree of Bachelor of Systematic Theology. District Superintendent Dr. F. Lamont Henninger, has assigned Rev. Wood to evangelistic work as his time permits.

A new roof is to be installed on the church this spring and beautiful new windows for the front have already been purchased. They will be placed after the work on the roof is completed.

Proud Record

One family name spans the 111 years since the dedication of the first church; Mr. E. G. C. Forrest and Miss Emma Forrest, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Forrest, reside in the family home at 121 N. Queen, Littlestown, and are honored senior members of the congregation.

Although church membership is small, 163, Sunday School attendance is increasing under the guidance of Chester S. Byers, Rev. Joseph E. Wood is the present pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, Littlestown. A graduate of Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., he attended Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary and is now completing at Westminster Theological Seminary.

This picture of Mother Sweeney, the first Methodist in Littlestown, was made from a portrait presented to the Centenary Methodist Church by her daughter, Mrs. Mary A. White, in 1887. Her home was a haven for itinerant preachers and in the early days she used to walk to Gettysburg to attend services.

superintendent. There is a Junior Fellowship with Mrs. Chester S. Byers as leader, a Youth Fellowship led by George Harner, and a Woman's Society of Christian Service with forty members. Mrs. Roland Weibley is president of the latter organization.

The Rev. Edgar R. Heckman, after serving as a district superintendent, once wrote of the Littlestown church, "People were Methodists down there from choice and not from accident. It was not popular to belong to a church where there were so few to do and to carry the burdens." On the hundredth anniversary of the founding of Centenary church he added, "We would that for another hundred years they shall be a great blessing to many."

Poultry meat consumption in the U. S. increased from 17 pounds in 1940 to 29 pounds in 1956.

tive groups attach to the promotion of tourist trade as a means of increasing employment, payrolls, and the purchasing power in each area.

The Pennsylvania report is based on responses from the Tourist and Convention Division, the Greater Erie Chamber of Commerce, the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, the Philadelphia Convention and Visitors Bureau and the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau.

These organizations reported respectively that they would spend $11,000, $236,000, $123,000 and $30,000 to attract tourists. The Pennsylvania Department of Commerce will spend an additional $460,000 to promote industry.

Twelve thousand persons will meet in Chicago this month to talk about safety — and even while they meet 1,300 Americans may die in accidents.

That would be the normal accidental death toll during the week of October 22-26, when the National Safety Congress, annual convention of the National Safety Council, will be held to work on ways and means to curb accidental death in all fields.

This year's Congress will not be able to save the lives of the threatened 1,300, the Council said, but such pooling of safety know-how during the 43-year history of one of the world's largest working conventions has helped save 650,000 lives.

Since the first National Safety Congress in 1912, the rate of deaths per 100,000 population has been reduced 28 per cent for all accidents, despite a tremendous increase in the rate for motor vehicle accidents alone.

Five of Chicago's largest hotels will be necessary to house the 200 sessions, which will attract thousands of dedicated safety workers from foundry foremen to motor magnates.

More than 800 speakers will crowd safety advice on occupational, traffic, home, farm and school safety into five jam-packed days, and in countless corridors the delegates will trade tips on how to prevent accidental death and injury.

George Romney, president.

chairman and general manager of American Motors Corp., Detroit, will keynote the opening session in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council will warn the safety leaders that the nation lost ground in its fight against accidents in 1956, and outline the goals in a revitalized emergency effort.

A highlight of the Congress will be the annual banquet at which 2,000 persons will cram the Hilton ballroom to hear Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press and outspoken advocate of social measures which will reduce the suffering due to preventable accidents.

Despite continued urbanization, Penn's Woods have been steadily increasing in area over the past three decades.

Commercial forest land in the state has risen 17 per cent from a low of about 13 million acres in the early 1920's to more than 15 million acres today, according to the 1956 edition of "Pennsylvania Forest Facts" just published by the Pennsylvania Forest Industries Committee in cooperation with American Forest Products Industries, Inc.

The booklet, compiled from latest federal, state and industry statistics, shows that forests cover 52.7 per cent of the state's nearly 29 million-acre total land area. Most of the forest land — about three quarters — is in small holdings owned by more than 300,000 persons.

Industries directly dependent upon the forests for their basic raw material are located in more than 600 communities. They provide full-time jobs for over 75,000 persons who earn an annual payroll of more than $270 million. The forest products produced are valued at more than $1 billion annually.

Spreading a movement to extend good forestry practices to all private lands is the Tree Farm program sponsored by the forest industries committee with cooperation of the Department of Forests and Waters and the Pennsylvania Forestry Association. The Tree Farm program aids and encourages landowners to adopt management practices favorable to growing repeated crops of timber.

Chairman of the industries committee, which represents major wood-dependent industries of the state, is E. O. Ehr-

Dykes Had Reason For Dirty Uniform

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmie Dykes, third base coach for the Cincinnati Redlegs, dropped cigar ashes on his uniform while smoking in the Polo Grounds clubhouse.

"That's all right," said Dykes. "When I played for Connie Mack he used to say 'If you have a dirty uniform it shows that you hustle.'"

START LONG DELAYED

CHICAGO (AP) — It required 157 National League games before robust Jim Hughes got around to making his first major league start and when he did the Brooklyn Dodgers drove him from the mound inside four innings. Hughes, in 157 previous mound appearances, was a relief pitcher in 143 Brooklyn games and 14 with the Chicago Cubs. In 1954 he set a Dodger record for pitching appearances by taking part in 60 games. Dodger Clem Labine tied the record in 1955.

IMMIGRATION MEN SEARCH FOR REFUGEE

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. immigration men swarmed over the huge liner Queen Mary Wednesday in a futile search for a Russian refugee and his American-born baby daughter bound for the Soviet Union.

Among the 1,269 passengers were a score of Russians, one a ranking official. The father and child were said to be possibly the victims of Soviet intimidation.

The searchers were looking for 56-year-old Alexis Chwastov and his daughter, Tanya, 2½. The child was born in Philadelphia.

Mother In Russia
Chwastov's 92-year-old mother was said to be still in Russia. Apparently tipped off by Chwastov's estranged wife, immigration officials made a deck by deck, cabin by cabin search. In Chwastov's tourist class cabin, they said, they found only luggage and bottles of baby formula.

One passenger, Fedor Solomatn, chief counsel to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, said: "In accordance with our law, the child is a Soviet citizen."

Going To Cherbourg
Solomatn admitted the Chwastovs were aboard but said he did not know where.

Roland Elliott, immigration service director for the Church World Service, told newsmen he feared Chwastov left under "intimidation."

Elliott said Chwastov's mother recently wrote urging his return. This was followed, he added, by an offer from the Soviet Embassy to pay the Chwastovs' passage.

The Queen Mary is due at Cherbourg, France, next Monday.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom contended Thursday Adlai Stevenson "took the low, low road" in statements about President Eisenhower made at Pittsburgh last night. English Are Pleased With Bolshoi Ballet LONDON (AP)—The first appearance in the West of Moscow's 180-year-old Bolshoi Ballet brought high acclaim from British critics Thursday for the company and for Galina Ulanova, at 47 still one of the world's greatest ballerinas.

The Bolshoi company opened a month's season in the British capital last night with a performance of "Romeo and Juliet" before a Covent Garden audience glittering with luminaries of stage, screen, society and politics.

Prime Minister Eden and his wife went backstage to congratulate the dancers.

Scalpers outside the theater did a brisk business in 2 guinea ($5.88) seats for five times their face value. Hundreds were turned away.

FOOTE DENIES STOCK CHARGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward A. Foote has denied as "untrue" a statement that his stock dealings conflicted with his official duties as an attorney in the Justice Department's antitrust division.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Antitrust subcommittee, issued the statement Wednesday, saying Foote, before he resigned Sept. 14 as the Justice Department's No. 2 trust-buster, dealt "in stocks of corporations under investigation or otherwise involved in matters" before his office.

Specifically, Celler said a subcommittee staff inquiry showed Foote ordered stock in the Warren Petroleum Co. when it announced a proposed merger with the Gulf Oil Corp.

Celler said Foote ordered the stocks sold on the day the Federal Trade Commission advised the antitrust division that it would investigate the proposed merger.

Among other things, the antitrust division reviews merger proposals for possible monopoly combinations and prosecutes violations of the antitrust laws.

speech scheduled there that night. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Thursday consideration is being given to some additional activity in the Pittsburgh area.

BENSON SAYS IKE INHERITED AG MESS IN '52

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Thursday the Eisenhower administration "inherited a mess in agriculture" in 1953 and rebuilt the nation's agricultural economy "upon a solid foundation."

Benson in separate prepared speeches before the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce and the American Butter Institute said this is the farm situation now:

1. Farm net income currently is 9 per cent higher than a year ago.
2. Farm prices are 6 per cent higher than last December.
3. The total value of all farm assets at 173 billion dollars is an all-time record high.
4. Farm foreclosures are near the all-time record low.
5. Three-fourths of the nation's farmers own their farms.
6. Total net income per person on farms last year was 15 per cent higher than in 1949.
7. Dairy farmers' cash receipts this year will be nearly 10 per cent above 1955.

8. Farm exports last year were the highest in 30 years.

Describing what he called the "mess in Washington," Benson said:

"In 1953, we inherited a bad situation throughout agriculture—a large and fast-growing inventory of various farm commodities—and one of the steepest price declines in history. Farm prices dropped 9 per cent in the six months before we took over. We inherited a situation under which production controls could not be effective until 1954—because our predecessors had announced prior to Inauguration Day that no controls would apply for 1953."

He said the Eisenhower administration "spent more than 3½ years cleaning it up."

STANDS PAT ON COMMUTATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader said Thursday he stood on his decision in commuting the death sentence of three Bucks County slayers.

Sen. James H. Duff has termed the action "a horrible miscarriage of justice."

"I can think of a lot of clever things to say but I won't risk misinterpretation by saying them," he told a news conference when asked about Duff's statement.

"I accept the unanimous recommendation of the Pardons Board and I stand by it."

Persistent questioning from newsmen failed to draw the usually voluble governor into an elaboration of the reasons given by the board in recommending the commutations.

First United Brethren Church At Mt. Tabor Was Built In 1861 On Site Given By Ephraim Miller

The old United Brethren Church at Mt. Tabor dates back to 1861 when members of the congregation secured three acres of ground from Ephraim Miller for the church and a burial plot. Rev. Isaac Weidner was the first pastor.

The new United Brethren edifice was erected in 1909 and completely renovated by Rev. Clarence Chubb, who added an organ and a new chancel arrangement. The present pastor, Rev. Marlin Lauer added modern facilities in 1955 at a cost of $28,600.

While the first United Brethren Church at Mt. Tabor was finished and dedicated in 1861, evangelistic work in the area goes back even beyond that date. It is a matter of record that the Methodists of York Springs held services at regular intervals in the old Township Schoolhouse, better known as the Turkey Foot Schoolhouse, which stood near the barn at Isaac Bowers' farm.

Among the ministers who preached there were Rev. Dixon,

Rev. Whitmer and Rev. Stevens. Supporters of Methodism in the early forties and fifties were Thomas, John and Henry Sowers. Meetings at the old school continued until the age of the structure caused its abandonment. Although Cline's United Brethren Church had been built in 1850, the United Brethren held alternate meetings with the Methodists at the school until it was abandoned.

After the school was discontinued as a meeting place the Methodists stopped their work, but the seeds of the Otterbein faith nurtured in such men as George Adams, Moses Murtorf, Henry Christ, Eli Heller, Henry Crum, Aaron Paxton, Reuben Crum, John Starnier, and Conrad Slusser led to the determination to build a United Brethren Church to handle the needs of the community.

Church Site Secured
Under the leadership of Rev. Isaac Weidner, the pastor, a site was secured from Ephraim Miller, who lived beyond Gettysburg and who was visited by Moses Murtorf and Eli Heller. Murtorf and Heller made the journey on foot and secured three acres of ground on which to build the church and a place of burial.

Trustees of the church, which was finished in 1861, were Henry Christ, George Adams, Aaron Paxton, Eli Heller, and Moses Murtorf.

Pastors serving the old church were Isaac Weidner, who built the church, H. Y. Hummelbaugh, J. H. Clem, George W. Lightner, J. H. Young, Solomon Bigham, Wilson Owen, Rev. Wood, Rev. Kohr, J. P. Koonitz, Rev. Wentz, W. O.

New Church Building
By the turn of the century the church built in 1861 was becoming unfit for use and plans were formulated for a new structure. Ground was broken in August 1908 for the new church building and the dedication took place on May 30, 1909, by Rev. W. H. Washington, then conference superintendent.

Anniversary ceremonies were held Sunday, June 10, 1934, during the pastorate of George E. Syder. Dr. J. H. Ness, conference superintendent, delivered the anniversary address.

The following pastors have served in the new church: J. W. Waters, B. P. S. Busby, P. L. Stine, C. I. Hoffman, J. Charles Gardner, C. Guy Stambaugh, T. Dewey Ritter, R. R. Zeigler, D. R. Fair, M. H. In 1955, Rev. Marlin H. Lauer completed a new basement auditorium, together with new plumbing, a new heating plant, and complete kitchen facilities at a total cost of $28,600. NIXON SWINGS AT STEVENSON ON DRAFT TALK

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon has again swung hard at Adlai Stevenson's expressed hopes for ending the draft, saying the Republicans will not "hold out any false hopes" of such action.

Nixon said he thinks Stevenson is "a well intentioned man," but contended the Democratic candidate lacks the background and judgment of President Eisenhower in matters involving threats to peace and freedom.

Stevenson has said the draft should be ended "at the earliest possible moment consistent with the national safety."

Makes Promise

On a nationwide television interview last night, Nixon said Republicans would like to be able to promise that compulsory military service could soon be abolished without impairing national safety. But he said they would "not kid the American people in an election year . . . when we know there is no chance at this particular time for it to happen."

It would be completely irresponsible, Nixon said, to tell allies the United States is reducing its strength and still expect them to keep up their own full efforts.

Nixon promised that never, under Eisenhower, would "thousands of American boys" go into a war unprepared, as he said happened in Korea. "Some of them died because they did not have the training they needed," Nixon said.

Repeatedly, Nixon appealed for the election of a Republican Congress as well as president.

Appeals For Congress

He said drought stricken farmers would be better off if the Democratic Congress had not balked at administration plans for early payment of soil bank benefits. Still, he said, the soil bank in the long run will help drought areas.

Nixon said congressional opposition also had blocked projects advocated by the President under his "partnership" policy for natural resources development.

Nixon declared that only this policy, emphasizing the role of local governments and private interests in power and similar developments, could fully realize the potential.

Motorman Gets Punch In The Eye

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A trolley passenger, irate at what he thought was an unusually rough ride through center city yesterday, punched the motorman in the eye.

And, said police, Anthony DiSilva then hit a fellow passenger with the street car's control handle before fleeing.

ART BLOOMS ON TIMES SQUARE

NEW YORK (AP)—Art—on a billboard basis, naturally—is blooming in Times Square, thanks to the ingenuity of an Alabama housewife.

Competing with the flash of neon signs in the heart of the Great White Way is a 12-by-25-foot floodlighted exhibition of paintings by Mrs. Ruth Hook of Birmingham, Ala.

She rented the signboard, three stories above the street, for 10 days at a cost of $400. Fourteen of her paintings are on display.

Mrs. Hook said she had two reasons for her novel showing: First, to sell the paintings, and second, to interest national advertisers in using original paintings in their advertising.

The exhibition includes still lifes, portraits, landscapes and a central 50-by-50 inch work entitled "Crossroads of Life"—at the crossroads of the world, Broadway-Seventh Ave. and 42nd St.

Title-setting today is a $500 million business in the U.S. and others resulted in DiSilva's capture and arrest on charges of aggravated assault and battery and disorderly conduct.

The motorman and the passenger were treated at a hospital.

New Contract For Insurance Agents

WASHINGTON (AP)—A union spokesman says that negotiating committees for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and the Insurance Workers of America have agreed on a contract affecting about 8,000 agents in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

The agreements, which are to run until March 31, 1959, are subject to ratification by members of the union. That probably will take two weeks.

The union said details of the contract terms would be withheld pending ratification.

The spokesman told newsmen that negotiations were completed earlier this week in New York.

STATE FIREMEN ELECT OFFICERS

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Russell Aulenbach, of Lebanon, yesterday was elected president of the Pennsylvania Firemen's Assn., succeeding Peter Terrini, of Latrobe.

Aulenbach was unopposed, as was the Rev. Frank W. Ruth, of Bernville, who was reelected chaplain.

The delegates to the association's annual convention nominated six men for the four vice presi-

Barre; James Baird, Jr., of Har-monsville; Arthur Potter, of Lew-istown; Clarence Craig, of Van-dergrift; Stanley Mayer, of Hyde Park; and Lewis Martin, of New Holland.

The four will be elected today. Terms of the other two vice presi-dents have not expired.

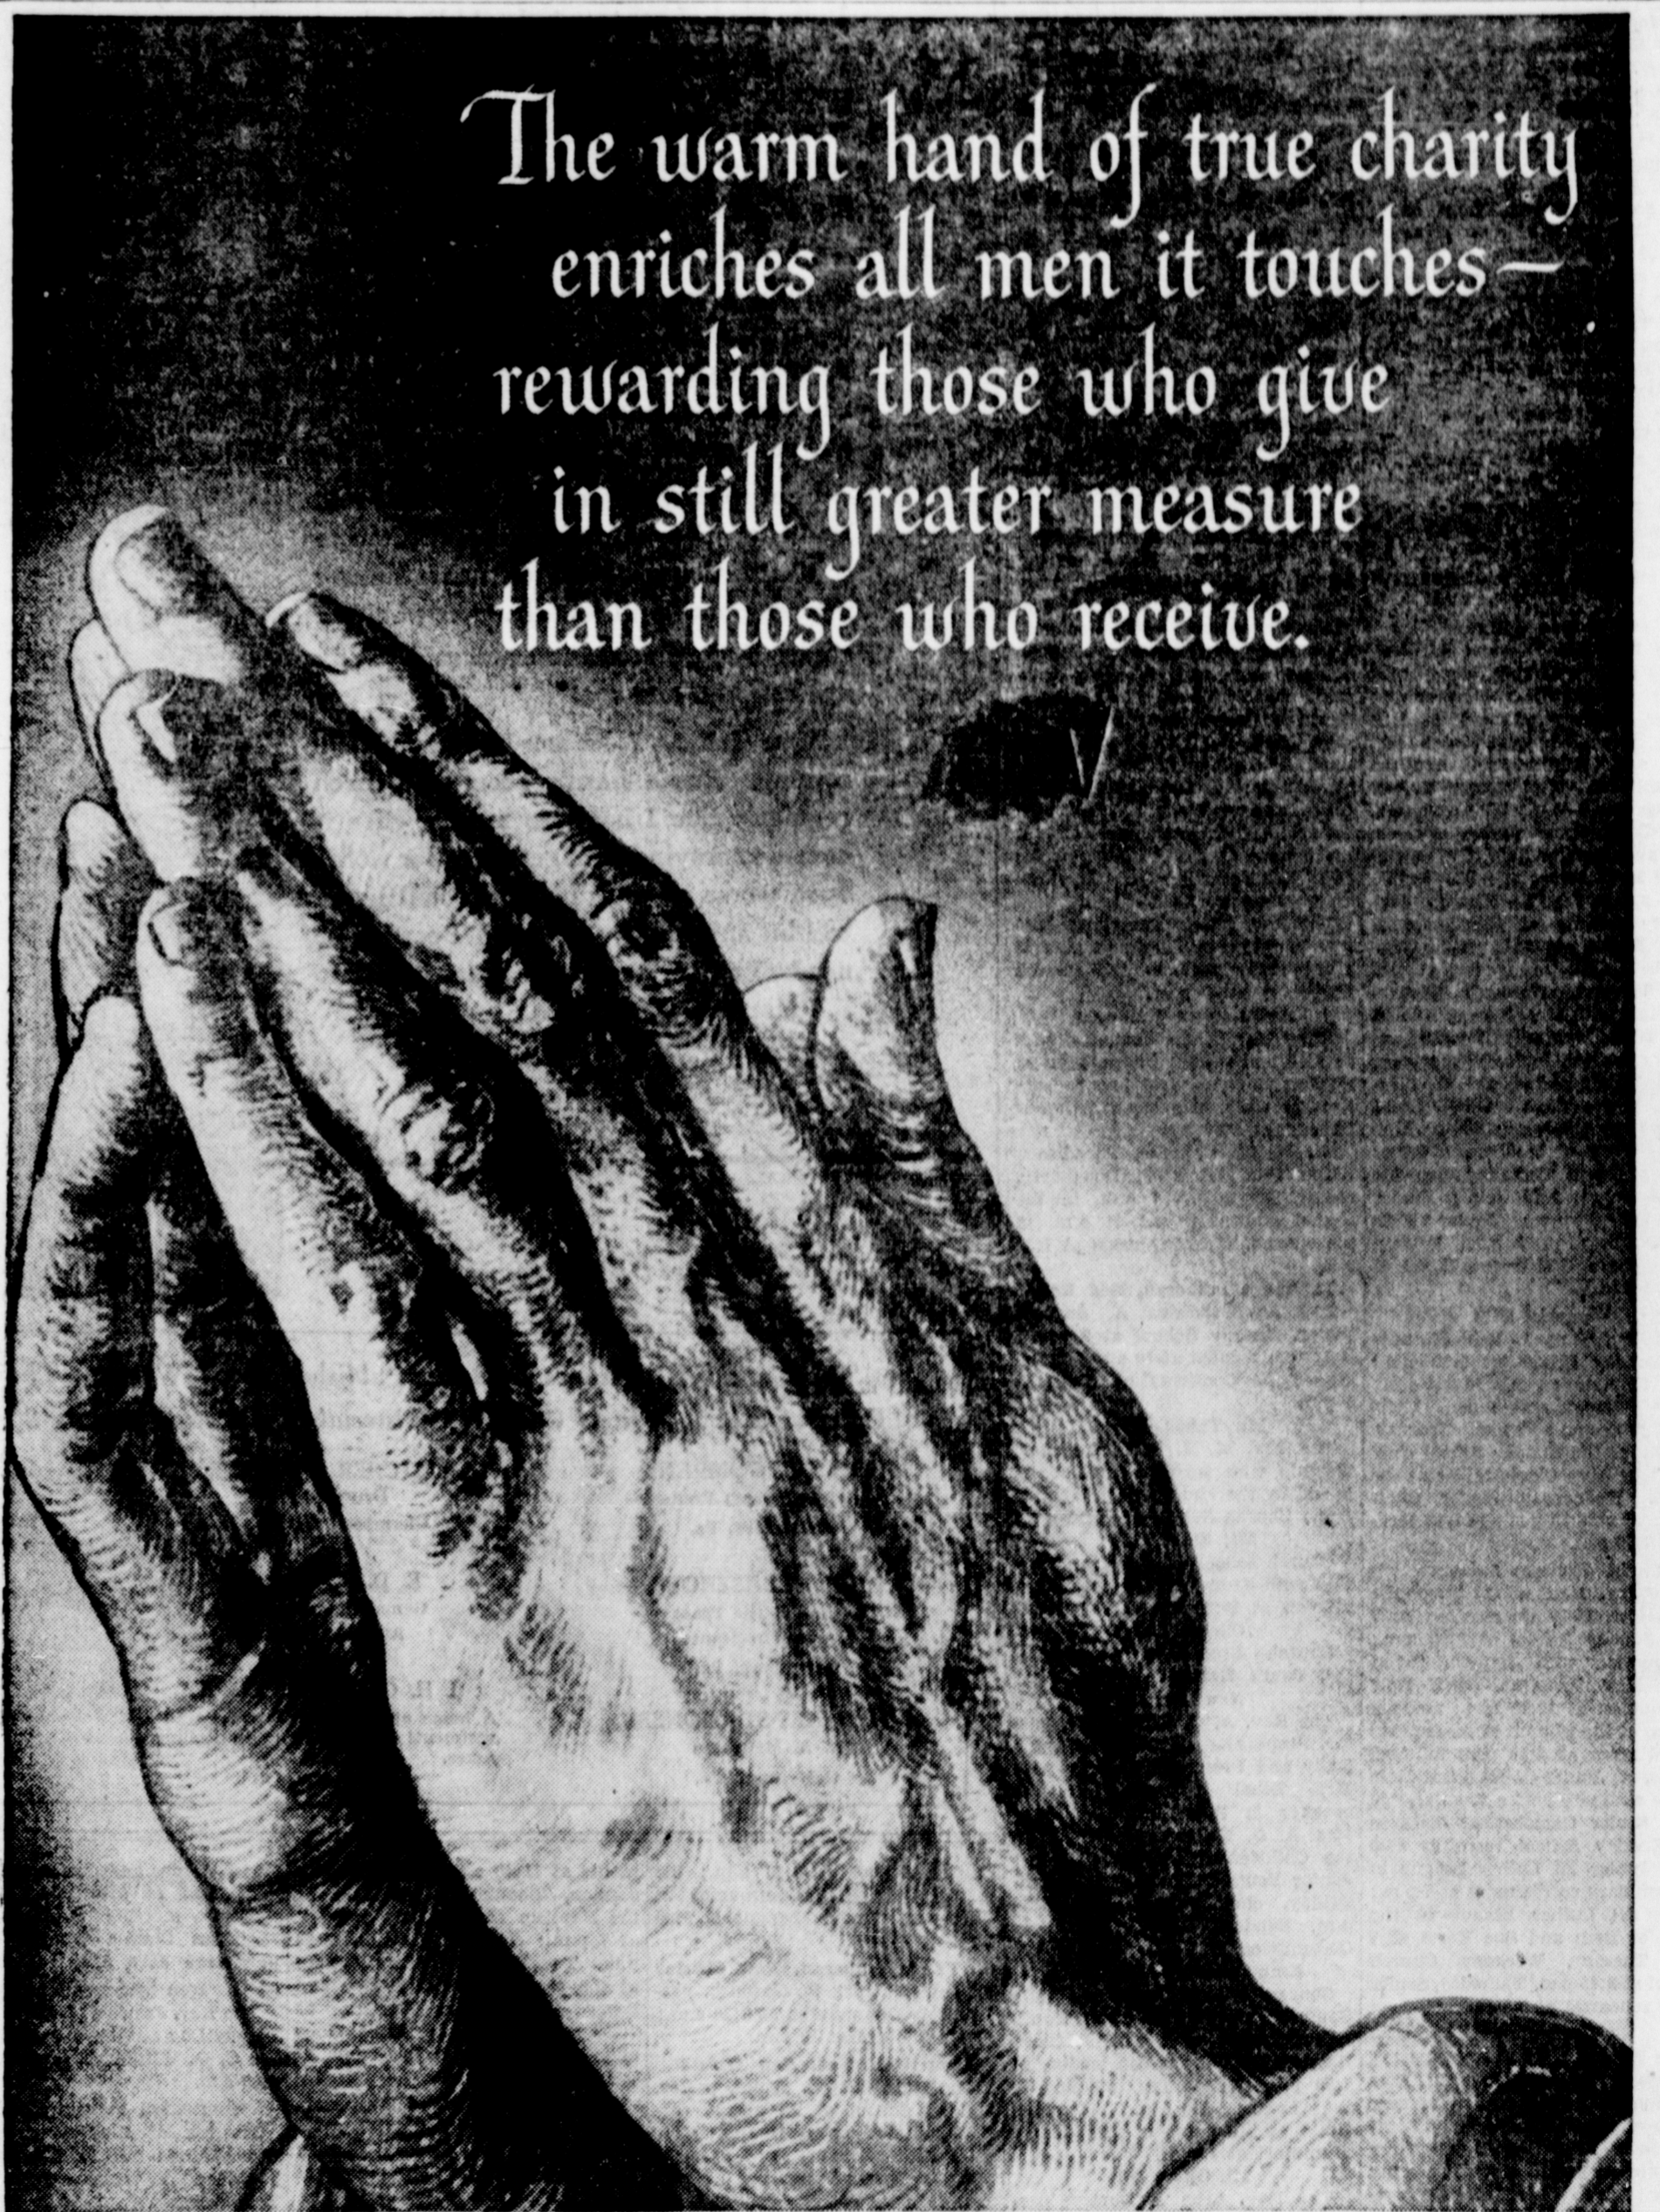

The convention, which closes to-morrow, closes Allentown for next year's meeting but did not fix the date.

Reports from workers on the Distant Early Warning radar line which U. S. and Canadian govern-ments are building is that teen-age Eskimos are now in the throes of rock 'n' roll. They learn it from the U. S. workers' juke boxes.

NAMED U.S. ATTORNEY
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Oliver Dibble, 46, was named an assistant to U.S. Atty. J. Julius Levy here yesterday.

A BOY'S PRAYER

Dear God... there's so much I'd like to say to You. It's that way lots of times. I want to talk to You, and then somehow I get stuck for words.

I guess I do some stupid things, sometimes... like that fight with Butch Hendley yesterday. He said something I didn't like and then I said something, and that was it. I guess I won, but afterwards I was kind of ashamed. I told Dad about it last night and he went for a walk with me and we looked up at the sky and the stars. Everything looked so big, all of a sudden, that it scared me. It seemed too big to understand.

Then Dad told me that there are lots of things like the sky and the stars, too big for people to ever understand. And he said that that's where Faith comes in, and that it is good to have the Church to put our trust in.

I got to thinking about that, and I told Dad that I'd kind of like to ask Butch to come to Church with us next Sunday morning, but that I was afraid he wouldn't come. Dad grinned at me and said, "Why not ask him and see?"

Dear God... I did ask Butch, and he's coming. Butch hasn't been to Church regularly like I have, so maybe when it comes to praying he'll get stuck for words even worse than I do. But You'll listen to him anyway, won't You? Because he needs You very much... just like I do... just like all of us do.

Thank You, God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE CREATION STORY

Genesis 1:1-3; 9:12, 26-28, 31

Key Verse: And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good. Genesis 1:31.

The last quarter of 1956 is a time when Sunday school teachers and pupils will devote their time to a study of "Great Passages of the Bible." Six lessons have been selected from the Old Testament and seven from the New Testament. Each is significant as a precious part of our religious heritage.

The first lesson is the story of Creation — the beginning of the Book of Genesis considered among the great literary works of all ages. It is not for that reason that we study it but for the great religious truths it presents. This "Creation Hymn" as it is sometimes called deserves the title because of its poetic form, its measured and majestic movement to describe the various steps of creation.

"Inspired By God" Whoever composed this magnificent account was inspired by God who must have "revealed to him the remote past in much the same manner as later the distant future was made known to the prophets." No one knows how this story was preserved for mankind, but it is reasonable to believe that God intended it to be a part of His Holy Word and to do so, transmitted it to His people early in the history of the world.

It is assumed that there is one God — Creator, Father, Protector, Provider. It is absolutely true that primitive races believed in One Supreme God. Consequently, in the Creation story, God speaks and, out of a chaos of matter, He brings order and life. The "seven days" in which this miracle was accomplished represent long successive periods. Possibly countless ages passed between the "beginning" and the "first day." A knowledge of science and its discoveries in geological research help the believer to visualize the changes. We do know that the "seven days," whether ages or not, mean the time it took God to prepare the Earth for man's abode.

Actually the days of creative work were six for God rested on the seventh — one of the bases for the observance of the Sabbath. Gradually a world of beauty and usefulness evolved from a chaotic mass. This was the order of God's Creation: 1. Light; 2. Air and water (atmosphere); 3. Land and vegetation; 4. Sun, Moon, and stars (luminaries); 5. Air and water animals; 6. Land animals and man. The several works of creation proved to be more than six acts. In fact God spoke eight times.

"Let There Be Light" "And God said, 'Let there be light'; and there was light. And God saw that the light was good; and God separated the light from the darkness." The seething mass that was the origin of Earth consisted of a cooling crust covered with water and surrounded by layers of mist and gases which kept it in darkness. Spiritually speaking, the light may also have indicated the Presence of God as Lord of the Earth. The other stages of Creation followed in ordered succession. When God created the land, he also created the verdure to clothe it and make it productive. Nature in all her glory — heavens, seas, land — continually proclaims the creative power of God from the very beginning until now. The beauty of bird, flower, and sunset cannot but arouse a holy awe.

God's crowning act of creation was man. Man was the only one of God's creatures made in His own image and given the powers of thought, reason, and personal response to his Creator. Man is not a part of God; he is a created creature, the highest of God's creations, endowed with special powers and opportunity to choose and act freely. And God gave man "dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the air, and over the cattle, and over every creeping thing that creeps upon the earth."

God is the center of the universe and it was His will that created the world and man. After He saw everything He made, He found "it was very good." Although the details of the two Creation accounts differ, they agree in these religious truths that God is Creator of all; Man as the highest creation of God has dominion over the created world. Man is God's steward and this partnership is a sacred trust. "Since His power controls all history, what exists springs from Him. As Lord of history, He is the Creator of history, of time of nature, which is the arena of history."

BIG 3 POWERS TRY TO AGREE ON SUEZ DEBATE

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The foreign ministers of the Big Three Western powers made a last-minute effort today to agree on a common front in the U.N. Suez debate.

Amid growing reports of Western differences, Secretary of State Dulles was to fly to New York for a conference with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau before the Security Council meeting at 2 p.m. EST.

Dulles declared in a speech last night that the Suez session "in many respects will be the most momentous" the Security Council has ever held.

First Meeting Today
Today's session was the first meeting of the three Western foreign ministers since the second London conference on the Suez problem ended Sept. 21.

U.S. spokesmen here have carefully avoided any definite statement as to whether or not the British-French resolution calling for U.N. endorsement of the position taken in the first London conference in August. This provided for international control of the 103-mile waterway, a demand Egypt already has rejected.

While U.N. representatives of the three western powers have sought to minimize the differences between the United States and her main Western allies, criticism of Dulles' position has been growing in France and Britain.

Says Low Mentality Best For Driving

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Lawyers, doctors and scientists make worse automobile drivers than persons of low mentality, says Arthur L. Berlin, chairman of the driver education program in San Leandro's schools.

"The man who drives while thinking of his business is a poor driver, while the man with low mental ability won't be thinking about much of anything," he said at the state traffic safety conference.

Assembly, Andre Le Troquer, denounced what he called the "near impotence" of the U.S. Suez policy. He blamed it on the election campaign.

French and British newspapers also have been critical of Dulles' news conference statement earlier this week about differences between the United States and the British and French.

A U.S. spokesman here said the United States agreed in principle with the British-French demands for international control of the Suez. He added, however, that the United States favored the establishment of some kind of U.N. negotiating machinery to seek a solution.

British sources made it clear that they didn't like this idea. They said: Britain is going to go ahead with her resolution. If Egypt has some plans Britain is prepared to listen, but Britain is not prepared to negotiate about a negotiation.

COAL RESEARCH PLANS DELUGE PA. COAL BOARD

HARRISBURG (AP)—A deluge of coal research proposals today confronted the State Coal Research Board, created by the 1955-56 Legislature to supervise the spending of a half million dollars on improving hard and soft coal markets.

The board, headed by Mines Secretary Joseph T. Kennedy, is surveying the entire field of possible research before fixing a definite program.

Joseph Corgan, chief of anthracite research for the U.S. Bureau of Mines, told the board that although production is decreasing, the relative demand for small sizes has increased.

New Problems
"This increased demand for finer sizes has created new problems in sizing and screening," he said. "The low dollar value of fine coal requires that preparation and crushing practices be conducted with maximum economy and efficiency."

The bituminous coal industry—through Bituminous Coal Research, Inc.—said sulfur in soft coal poses a problem in the manufacture of coke used in the manufacture of steel.

"This proposed investigation would be directed specifically towards a study of the efficiency of electrochemical and chemical oxidizing agents on the selective oxidation of the iron sulfides in Pennsylvania bituminous coals without the destruction of their coking properties," said the organization.

Other Proposals
Other research proposals in the hands of the board include seeking ways to:

Remove a tendency in bituminous coal to cake into a mass of partly burned fuel in the furnace and so impede the passage of air through the bed, retard combustion and present difficulties in resuming operations after banking.

Discover better solvents to break down soft coal into other products such as carbon electrodes that could be used in compounding rubber or into a raw material than can be used for making pipe enamel.

Blend anthracite with bituminous coal in making coke used for steel.

Improve market studies for both hard and soft coal.

Control water contamination in the bituminous coal fields.

Produce active carbon from anthracite and use hard coal for

Dick Haymes Has Alimony Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A bench warrant has been issued for Dick Haymes as the result of the singer's latest alimony troubles.

Haymes failed to appear yesterday in answer to a Superior Court contempt citation. The singer's former wife, Nora Eddington Haymes, claims Haymes is behind $12,150 in her $100 a week alimony.

Haymes was divorced from actress Rita Hayworth in December 1955.

U.S. IN DARK ON TITO'S TALKS WITH TOP REDS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government is reported to be still completely in the dark—and deeply concerned—about the purpose of Yugoslav President Tito's present talks with Russian leaders.

In this uncertain situation, State Department officials are considering Communist Yugoslavia's urgent request for emergency American wheat shipments to meet a severe shortage.

There was reason today to believe the wheat request may be separated from the broader problem confronting President Eisenhower, who faces a decision by Oct. 16 on whether or not Yugoslavia is still eligible for general economic and military assistance from the United States.

Pressure On Tito
The best available information is that Eisenhower may announce then that he is without sufficient information to rule on the broad question but that he believes Yugoslavia to be qualified for U.S. wheat shipments.

On the whole Yugoslav aid program, Congress specified that such help be halted entirely unless Eisenhower determines by Oct. 16 not only that Yugoslavia is following an independent foreign policy but that continuing economic and arms aid to her would be in the national interest.

There is considerable belief here that the Russians have put the strongest possible pressures on Tito stop trying to promote greater independence for the satellite countries and to mesh his policies more closely with those of the Soviets.

Most officials here say they think Tito is determined to retain the independence of action he staked out for himself when he broke with Moscow in 1948.

Menonites Began Independent Congregation In Fairfield In 1926; Church Dedicated In 1927

In 1926 a small group of Menonites who had come to Adams County from Lancaster County and had worshipped originally at the Mummaburg Mennonite Church decided to organize a new Mennonite church which would maintain traditional Mennonite principles within the framework of independent congregational polity. The group first held services at a tabernacle building located at 4th and Hanover Sts., Gettysburg.

In 1927 the fellowship purchased the building which is the present church. This structure had been erected by the Christian Church in 1903. A new wing was added to provide a Sunday School room and the renovated building was dedicated as the Fairfield Mennonite Church in August of 1927. Dedication services, which lasted for a week, were directed by Rev. Emanuel Troyer, then moderator of the Central Mennonite Conference.

During the early years tireless assistance was rendered the group by John Musselman and Rev. A. W. Geigley who served as minister without salary until 1938 when he was forced to ask for help in his pastoral responsibilities.

Student Assistants
About this time a number of student assistants, many supplied through the generosity of the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary, served the church. Among the student ministers were Russell Hale, Reginald Deitz, J. Lawrence Burkholder, Russell Mast, and Paul Shelly.

In 1953 the church called its first full time minister, the Rev. G. S. Stoneback, who served until 1950. Others serving as pastors have been Rev. B. F. Wass, 1950-51; Rev. Helmut Dyck, 1952-54; and the present pastor Rev. Lamont Woelke.

For a number of years the Fairfield Mennonite Church remained an independent, unaffiliated congregation. During the last decade it joined the General Conference Mennonite Church, Eastern District, and it is also a member of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

By 1940 plans were under consideration for additional church facilities and in 1942 a Building Fund was launched. It was not until 1951, however, that the building program was undertaken. Included were a 40' by 50' addition with adequate modern Church School facilities, restrooms, parlor, kitchen and a complete remodeling of the sanctuary. The dedication of the new addition and the renovated sanctuary was held in November 1953.

Since its organization the Fairfield Mennonite Church has grown from thirty charter members to its present membership of 76.

On The U. S. Political Front

WELLSBORO, Pa. (AP) — Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican candidate for auditor general, today called on Gov. Leader to "explain" what disposition was made of funds appropriated for flood relief in areas of Pennsylvania.

"We think the governor owes the people of Pennsylvania full and frank explanation of how the funds were spent," said Smith at a political rally here.

In other Republican developments, both Smith and U.S. Sen. James H. Duff, GOP candidate for re-election, aimed new criticism at Leader for commuting to life imprisonment the death sentence of David Darcy and two other convicted Bucks County slayers.

The governor, at his news conference, said he stood on his action for the reasons given by the State Board of Pardons. The board said there was "substantial doubt" that Darcy and others received a fair trial.

"Foulest Blot"
Duff, in a speech last night at West Chester, said the commutations were "the foulest blot" on the state's judicial process.

Smith, in another speech at Philadelphia, said Leader "can't explain the action . . . and therefore, he's not talking."

Smith said in his prepared address that very little work has been done to make lasting repairs

The present Fairfield Mennonite Church building was erected by the Christian Church in 1903 and purchased by the Mennonites in 1927. In 1951 a new addition was made and the sanctuary was completely remodeled. The present congregation numbers 76 members.

to roads and bridges and for stream clearance work.

"I would like to ask . . . if part of the 40 million dollars he will fund to the general fund for general governmental expenses will transfer from the motor license include some of the taxes paid for this flood relief," Smith said.

"Wasted Years"

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — James W. Knox, Democratic candidate for state treasurer, today blamed any present state tax problems on what he said was the "wastrel years before the Leader administration when the Republican leadership made free and easy with public funds and poured state solvency down the drain of political incompetency," Knox said.

Knox, Allegheny County controller, made the statement at a political rally in this Jefferson County community in answer to charges made against Leader by Knox's opponent, Rep. Robert F. Kent.

"Mr. Kent, who obviously doesn't know that some 1,000 businesses have started in Pennsylvania in the administration of Gov. Leader, gives me the impression he is fresh out of elocution school, has dress suit and will travel," Knox added.

"Bankrupt Legacy"

"What Mr. Kent does not say is that of the 502 million dollars in new tax money required at the outset of the Leader administration, approximately 400 millions or 80 per cent represented the bankrupt legacy of the (Gov. James H.) Duff and other GOP administrations," Knox declared.

Last night at Clarion, Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, described his opponent, Sen. James H. Duff, as a "symbol of Republican failure to match words with deeds."

"People Need Help"

"Does anyone in Clarion County," Clark asked, "know of anything Sen. Duff or the Republican Administration has done to help Pennsylvania's family farmers and small businessmen?"

HARLEM GIVES BIG WELCOME TO STEVENSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai Stevenson was buoyed today by a cheering reception from Negroes in civil rights-conscious Harlem.

The Democratic presidential nominee headed for the second World Series game in Brooklyn with confidence in his camp that he had surmounted a possibly critical juncture in his campaign.

His supporters regarded Harlem as something of a weather-vane as to how he might fare in other populous Negro centers in Northern states with large electoral votes.

10,000 Applaud
An outdoor crowd estimated by

"The people of Pennsylvania," Clark went on, "need help not talk, and they need it now."

In Harrisburg, Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, said that Duff's criticism of Clark's membership in the Americans for Democratic Action was "malicious and vicious."

"ADA," Barr said, "means Americans dedicated to Americanism and I defy anyone, and that goes for Jim Duff, to prove that Mr. Clark is anything but a great, patriotic American, who is fiercely devoted to the constitutional aims of free government."

Barr, in another statement, said he believed Duff has lost the women's vote.

"I believe," he said, "that women are more discerning than men when it comes to spotting political fakery and the opinion everywhere in Pennsylvania, on the staff side of both parties, is that Sen. Duff is a sanctimonious fraud."

police at 10,000 applauded his contention that Negroes had made their greatest gains with a Democrat in the White House.

They applauded also when he accused Republicans of a "brazen" attempt "to seize partisan credit for progress in civil rights."

The outdoor rally last night was open to all comers, friends or foes of the Democratic ticket.

But if any of those attending were unfriendly, they were silent.

Reporters covering the event heard no boos or jeers or any unfriendly remarks.

Quotes Ike

Loudest applause came when Stevenson reiterated previous assertions that "I support this decision" of the Supreme Court ruling segregation in public schools unlawful.

He quoted President Eisenhower as having said of the decision: "I think it makes no difference whether or not I endorse it."

At another point, Stevenson said Eisenhower has been "presented with an opportunity for great national leadership in this field" and had been "virtually silent."

Stevenson said Eisenhower last Monday credited Republicans with ending segregation in the armed forces, but that an executive order issued by President Truman in 1948 "sounded the death knell" of such segregation.

Democratic Claims

Stevenson said the order was issued despite testimony by Eisenhower, then chief of staff, before a congressional committee that complete desegregation in the armed forces would "get us 'into trouble'."

"I don't," said Stevenson, "mind the President's trying to make off in broad daylight with the Democratic platform — he always returns it right after election day anyway—but he better stop trying to run on the Democratic record."

The Democrat said the Republicans claimed credit for stopping discrimination in employment by government contractors but that actually "all they did was to continue the work by the Fair Employment Practices Commission" under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

Racial Rallies

Earlier, Stevenson addressed rallies in a Jewish-Italian-Puerto Rican district on Delancey Street on the lower East Side and a rally in a Puerto Rican-Italian district in East Harlem.

On the lower East Side, Stevenson said Republican conduct of foreign policy has been wanting, and that Eisenhower should take conduct of policy in the Middle East away from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

"Israel is imperiled," Stevenson said. "I know many of you are Jewish. I know you are anxious, and I am, too."

SAYS NOBODY FIGHTS LABOR LEADER LEWIS

By NORMAN WALKER

CINCINNATI (AP) — Labor leader John L. Lewis nowadays is like a baseball slugger who gets walked every time he comes to bat. Nobody will fight him anymore.

The 76-year-old Lewis, still hale and hearty, signed a fat new wage contract for soft coal miners yesterday, calling for a $2.40 per day package raise in wages and holiday benefits.

The veteran president of the United Mine Workers Union said he couldn't help but mention, in passing, how the quick, peaceful negotiations leading to the new contract were a far cry from the "turbulence" of coal labor relations a few years ago.

Tits With Leaders
In those days of tense, prolonged strikes and negotiations Lewis was tilting with presidents, congress-sional committees, courts and mainly the mine owners, or anyone else standing in his way.

There have been rumors that Lewis, perhaps somewhat bored with the relative ease with which coal wage negotiations are carried on now, may bow out as UMW president but remain in charge of the union's 140-million-dollar welfare fund and substantial investments.

But Lewis won't discuss any such possibility. In fact, he gives every indication of wanting to keep the UMW helm as long as he can.

The new contract is to run one year until Oct. 1, 1957 or longer, unless terminated by either side. It calls for a two-state $2 per day boost in wages—$1.20 retroactive to last Monday, and another 80 cents next April 1—plus 40 cents per day worth of added holiday benefits. This will increase basic daily pay for miners to $22.25.

30-Cent Raise
The new contract works out to a raise of about 30 cents an hour—about the biggest won in an industry this year. Also, it keeps miners in the top wage bracket

Jordan Accused Of Murdering Five

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel accused Jordan of killing five Israeli workers in a desert road ambush last night and scored what it called "incapability" of U.N. truce teams to stop such attacks.

An Israeli announcement said two vehicles were fired on near Sodom, 7 miles west of the Jordan border. One vehicle got away after a passenger was killed, it added.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said the ambush "shows a continuation of Jordan's policy of aggression and border harassment." "It also shows the incapability of the U.N. machinery to do anything to prevent a steady recurrence of these Jordan aggressions," he added.

Israeli security forces secured the area in search of the attackers. Israeli authorities submitted a complaint to the U.N. truce supervision headquarters in Jerusalem.

In Pittsburgh last night, George H. Love, president of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., world's largest producer, said he thinks the pay raise is "not too high."

Edward G. Fox, new president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn., made and signed the deal with Lewis. Fox declined to say whether he expected coal price increases.

But Lewis frankly said he expects price boosts. Industry sources forecast coal price increases of about 25 to 50 cents a ton. Lewis said he expects the deal he made with Fox, covering about 150,000 of the soft coal industry's some 200,000 workers, to spread to the rest of the industry.

Lewis gave special tribute in addressing the UMW's 3,000 convention delegates here to the role Thomas Kennedy, UMW vice president, played in negotiating the new contract. Lewis said he merely "held the lamp" while Kennedy did the work.

If Lewis decided to bow out as UMW president, Kennedy, 68-year-old former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania, would become his immediate successor.
